

Forward and Currency Versions of Dow Jones Commodity Index Launched by S&P Dow Jones Indices

PR Newswire
NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- S&P Dow Jones Indices (S&P DJI), one of the world's largest providers of financial market indices, today announced the launch of forward and currency versions of the Dow Jones Commodity Index (DJCI).

The forward indices measure the index components based on First Nearby Contract Expirations that would be included in the Index on the specified forward dates. The currency indices are offered for eight currencies: Australian dollars, British pounds, Canadian dollars, euros, Japanese yen, Singapore dollars, Swiss francs, and U.S. dollars, with hedged and unhedged versions for each currency. Unhedged versions of the Index represent the value of the index translated into the specific currency. The currency hedged versions measure the performance of the index components based on the specific non-U.S. dollar currency, but with minimal exchange rate risk.

"Forward and currency versions of the DJCI family allow market participants the opportunity to specialize their investment strategies based on a specific currency or position on the forward curve," says Jodie Gunzberg, Global Head of Commodities at S&P Dow Jones Indices. "We are committed to expanding the DJCI family to meet the market's need for a highly liquid, transparent and diversified commodity index family."
