

S&P 500 Equal Weight Real Estate Index Launched by S&P Dow Jones Indices

Index Licensed to Guggenheim Investments for ETF Development

NEW YORK, June 23, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Recognizing the growing importance of real estate to investors, S&P Dow Jones Indices ("S&P DJI") announced today the launch of the S&P 500® Equal Weight Real Estate Index, which equally weights the index constituents in the S&P 500 that are currently classified in the Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS®) Real Estate Industry Group, excluding Mortgage REITs sub-industry. The Index has been licensed to Guggenheim Investments to serve as the basis for an exchanged traded fund (ETF).

As previously announced on November 10, 2014, a new Real Estate Sector is being created, elevating its current position as an Industry Group under the Financials Sector. The change is scheduled to be implemented after the market close of August 31, 2016 and will bring the number of GICS Sectors to eleven.
