LONDON and NEW YORK and ZURICH

LONDON and NEW YORK and ZURICH, Sept. 8, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- S&P Dow Jones Indices (S&P DJI), one of the world's leading index providers, and RobecoSAM, the investment specialist focused exclusively on Sustainability Investing (SI), today announced the results of the annual Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI) review.

The three largest additions and deletions (by free-float market capitalization) to the DJSI World this year include:

Additions: Cisco Systems Inc, Royal Dutch Shell PLC, Adobe Systems Inc

Deletions: Intel Corp*, Samsung Electronics Co Ltd, British American Tobacco PLC*

The component lists for the DJSI will be published on the RobecoSAM website on Monday, September 12, 2016. All changes are effective on Monday, September 19, 2016.

Launched in 1999, the DJSI World is the gold standard for corporate sustainability and the first global index to track the leading sustainability-driven companies based on RobecoSAM's analysis of financially relevant Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) factors and S&P DJI's robust index methodology. RobecoSAM invited the world's largest 3,400 companies from developed and emerging markets to take part in its annual Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA).

Appetite for Sustainability Investing on the Rise

ESG integration has gone mainstream, attracting the attention of more and more investors. RobecoSAM's database of comprehensive research regarding financially relevant sustainability information enables RobecoSAM and S&P DJI to provide tailor-made indices designed to meet investors' growing needs for SI investment solutions. The aim of the CSA methodology is to address upcoming sustainability trends that are connected to financial performance and thus raise the bar each year.

Manjit Jus, Head of Sustainability Application & Operations, RobecoSAM: "The iconic DJSI offer a great opportunity for companies to drive their sustainability performance. Moreover, the CSA addresses the right sustainability issues that support companies to remain at the cutting edge of their industry and forms the basis of new, innovative index solutions that we develop together with our partner S&P Dow Jones Indices."

David Blitzer, Managing Director and Chairman of the Index Committee, S&P Dow Jones Indices: "With 2016 likely to be the hottest year on record, investors are again reminded that companies' environmental and sustainability efforts are crucial to their financial outcomes. The Dow Jones Sustainability Indices are comprehensive benchmarks of companies that meet RobecoSAM's sustainability standards and give investors tools to develop global allocations that reflect sustainability factors."

Observations from the 2016 DJSI Review

The CSA consists of over 100 financially relevant questions. An analysis of this year's review provides insight into the business practices of the world's largest companies. Below are some of the most notable observations from the 2016 Review:

Criteria, Where World's Largest Companies Scored Highest in 2016:

- Codes of Business Conduct
- Corporate Governance
- Environmental Policy & Management Systems

Criteria, Where World's Largest Companies Scored Lowest in 2016:

- Operational Eco-Efficiency
- Human Capital Development
- Materiality (New criteria in 2016)

Surprisingly, many companies still underestimate the importance of "Human Capital Development" and lack the ability to not only qualitatively, but also quantitatively, link investments in human capital with tangible business benefits.

Most Improved CSA Criteria Relative to Last Year:

- Corporate Citizenship and Philanthropy: +22.09%

The high score in "Corporate Citizenship and Philanthropy" shows that companies increasingly approach their corporate citizenship activities in a strategic manner, with defined priorities that are aligned with their business drivers, allowing companies to leverage their strengths, brand and employees to have the maximum impact on the beneficiaries.

Least Improved CSA Criteria Relative to Last Year:

- Labor Practice Indicators and Human Rights: -34.82%

The criteria "Labor Practice Indicators and Human Rights" deteriorated the most due to newly introduced questions focusing on human rights. Based on the results, it is clear that this is a developing area of interest for companies – many have human rights policies in place, but few have the tools to comprehensively assess, mitigate and remediate human rights risks.
